The Joyce Louise Redman Memorial Endowed Scholarship was established through a generous bequest from Joyce Redman, who valued the importance of education. Joyce passed away on February 3, 2021, leaving a legacy of dedication and care.

Raised in South Dakota, Joyce earned degrees from Wartburg College in Waverly and Saint John's University in Minnesota and later completed a Master of Arts degree in Education from Clarke College in Dubuque. She devoted 35 years to teaching at Waterloo's Hawthorne and Edison Elementary schools, retiring in 1993. Earlier in her career, Joyce taught at Bremwood Residential Campus in Waverly and the Lutheran Youth Center in Wasilla, Alaska. She loved reading, gardening and traveling—especially to Europe. In her later years, Joyce enjoyed traveling with Jerry Lien.

Through thoughtful planning, Joyce created a scholarship at Allen College to help students pursue their educational goals. This gift stands as a tribute to her lifelong commitment to learning, and Allen College is deeply grateful for her lasting impact.

Special thanks to Brandon for his assistance in ensuring Joyce's wishes were honored and her legacy continues through this scholarship.
